FOREWORD

We, the Class of 1960, as we emerge from the halls of St. Elizabeth High School, are aware that this is the commencement--the beginning--for which we have been getting ready.

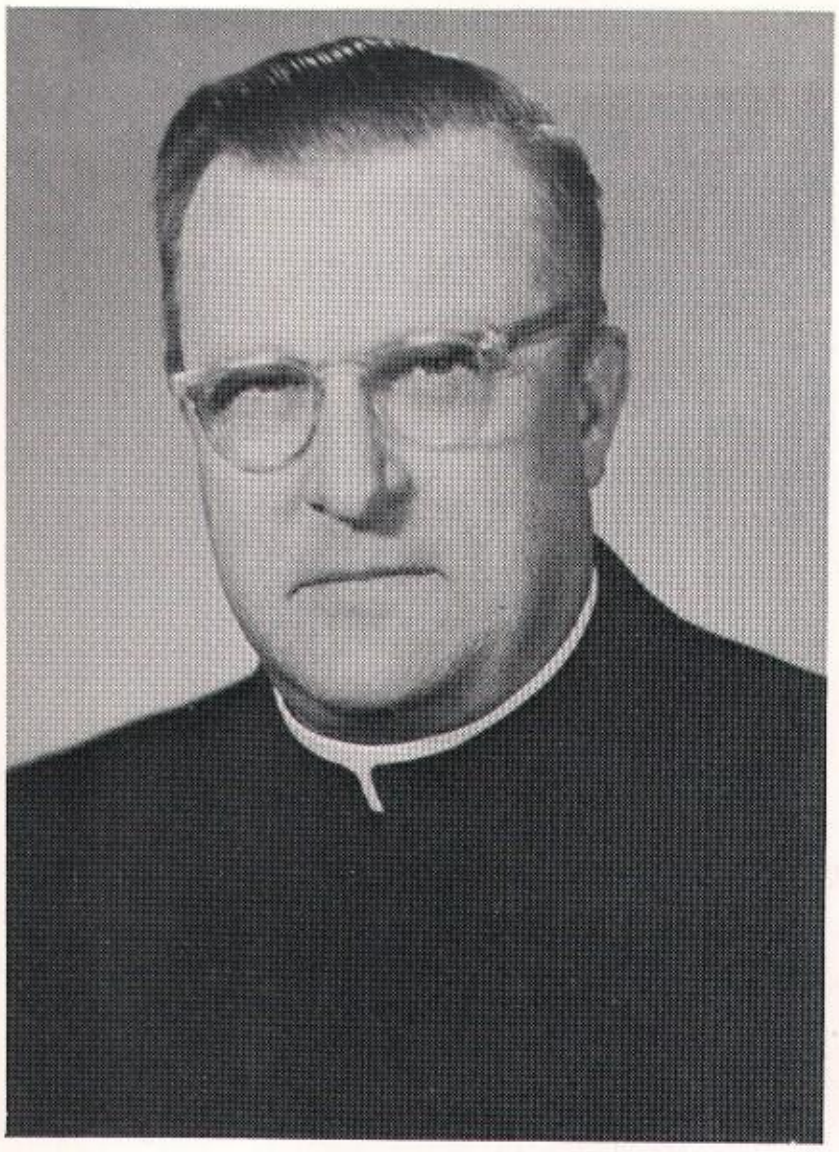
We have been preparing ourselves for a world of change in a world of change: the St. Elizabeth High School of 1956 to 1960. We have seen structural changes in our school and in our neighborhood, and there have been changes of personnel among our classmates, our teachers, and our friends. We ourselves have changed, as our diplomas testify.

As we set out over this shifting sea of life, we confidently adopt an unchanging course toward our unchanging Goal. May our unchanging Guide keep us ever on this course.

In the following pages we have recorded some of the achievements of our high school years, in the hope that the memory of what we accomplished under the devoted guidance of the Fathers of the Divine Word and the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament may spur us on to eternal success.

Administration

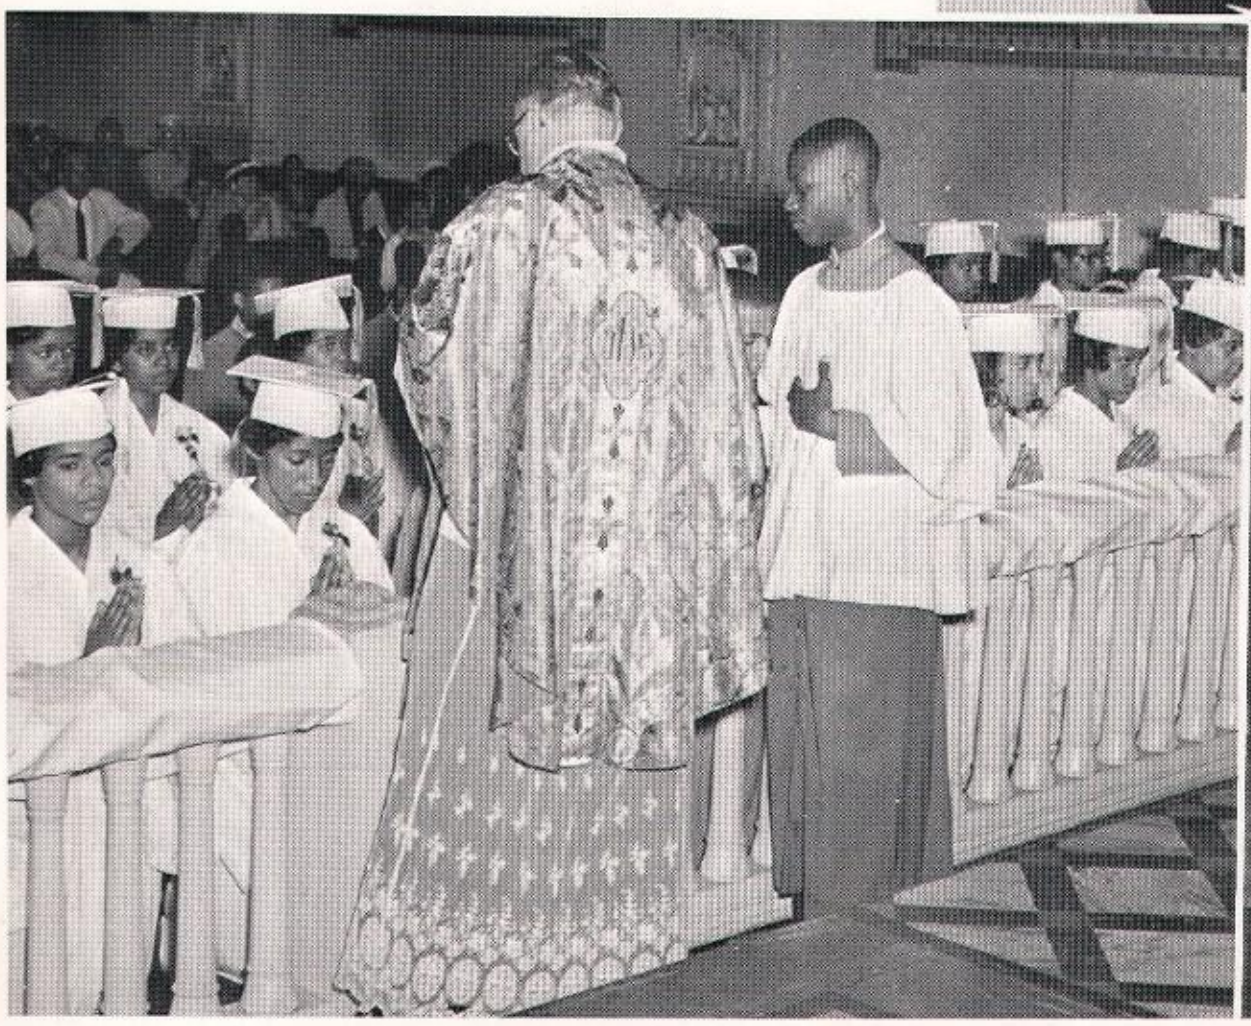
PASTOR



LEFT: REV. CLEMENT SHAPKER, S.V.D., Pastor of St. Elizabeth. Although Father Shapker is best known to us as a spiritual leader, we will not forget his concern for our material well being, which has led to several changes this year in St. Elizabeth. Despite huge financial obstacles, Father forged ahead and rebuilt the interior of the school, installed a new fire alarm system, and arranged for complete sprinkler coverage. He further enhanced our academic surroundings with new lights and beautiful decorating. Regardless of his many cares Father has always remained our personal and beloved friend. We gratefully salute him!

BELOW: Father Shapker, in Class Day role, awards Choir medals to Royalmetta Mayo (center) and Katherine Payton.

BELOW: Father Shapker, familiar to us in his Mass vestments, distributes Holy Communion at Baccalaureate Mass.



PRINCIPAL

BELOW: SR. M. MIGUEL, S.B.S., Principal of St. Elizabeth High School. A special "Thank You" to Sr. M. Miguel for taking time our of her busy schedule to come to know us personally and as individuals. We feel privileged to be the first class at St. Elizabeth to know her.

ABOVE: Sr. M. Miguel awards the Betty Crocker medal ("Homemaker of Tomorrow") to Marbeline Montgomery.

STAFF

MRS. LUELLA JOHNSON, cafeteria operator, serves George Horton (left) and Ronald Marbles.

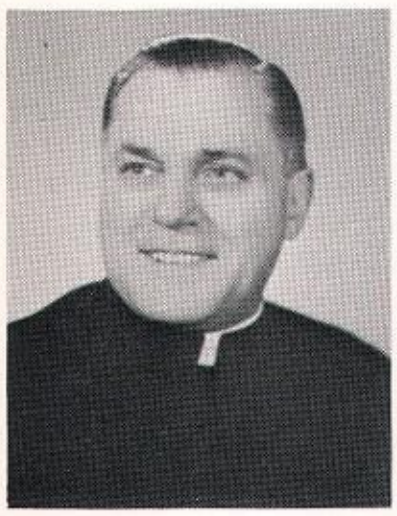
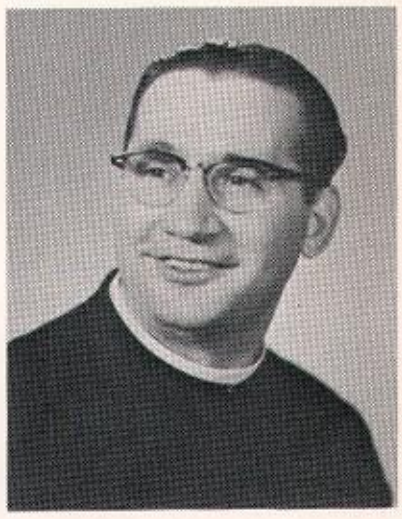
FATHERS OF THE DIVINE WORD

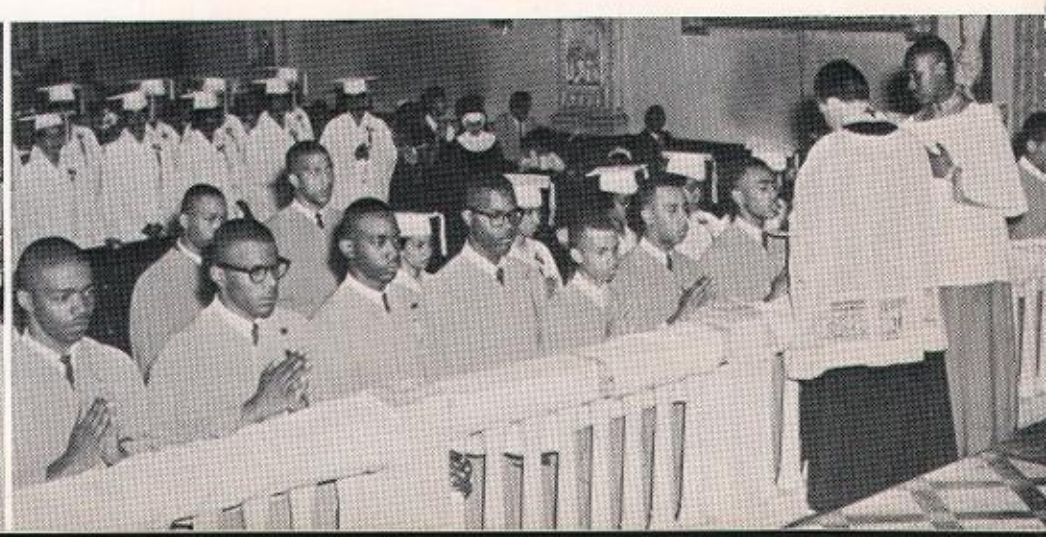




We will always remember REV. FRANCIS HEIER, S.V.D. (left) and REV. ALOYSIUS ZIMMERMAN, S.V.D. (right), who were of great help to us during our freshman and sophomore years.

As Father Lewis looked to us.

As we looked to Father Coyle.



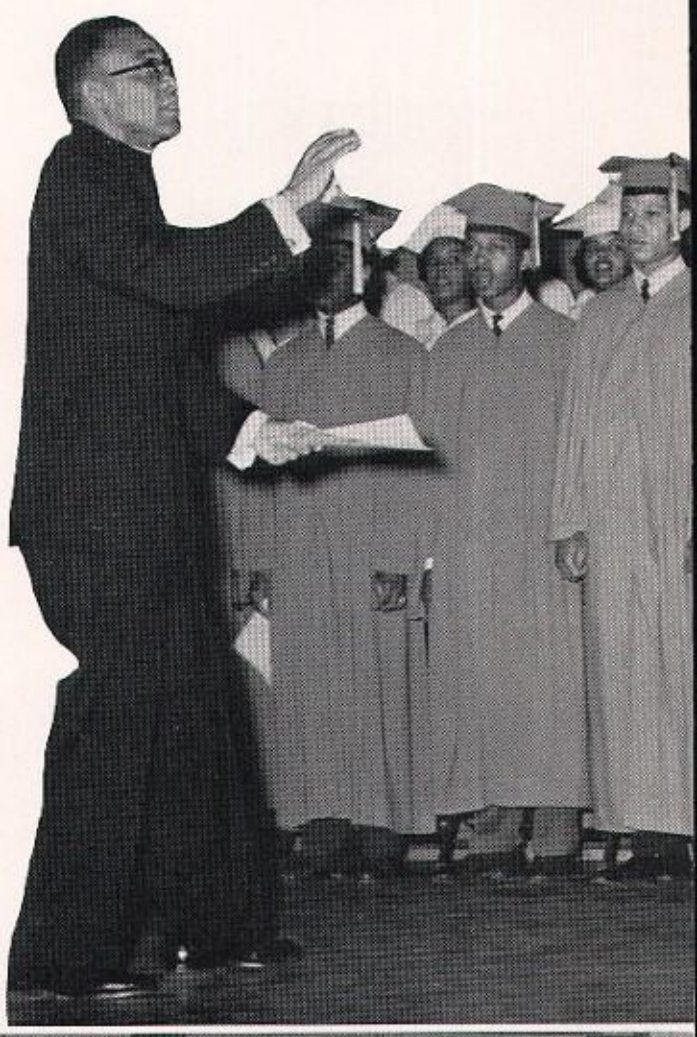
Graduates

REV. ROBERT BURNS, Pre-Cana Conference speaker and instructor in Christian Marriage.

REV. ELZEAR GEHLEN, S.V.D., Director, St. Anselm Center, former Athletic Moderator, Baccalaureate Speaker.

MR. LLOYD DAVIS, Intergroup Relations Specialist, former Executive Director of Chicago Catholic Interracial Council, Class Day Speaker.

"Teach us no



FATHER BURNS: Those of us who receive the sacrament of matrimony will always be grateful to Father Burns for the series of clear instructions he gave us in our senior year.

FATHER GEHLEN: In his Baccalaureate Address, Father Gehlen reminded us that there will be another Graduation Day at the Last Judgment, and that "only if all 75 (of us) are there in one group...on the right side of God," will this one have been a success. He urged us to keep up "a protective wall of daily prayer, weekly Mass, and at least monthly reception of the sacraments."

LLOYD DAVIS: "...You will have to prepare and sacrifice; you will have to lose an occasional battle but not the war...The mandate of leadership has been entrusted to you...You are obligated to bring Christ to the world and the world to Christ...See clearly the opportunities that await you in a world in the making...The future is yours..."

Led by Father Lewis, we sang Gregorian Mass No. XVI on Baccalaureate Day, Pentecost Sunday.

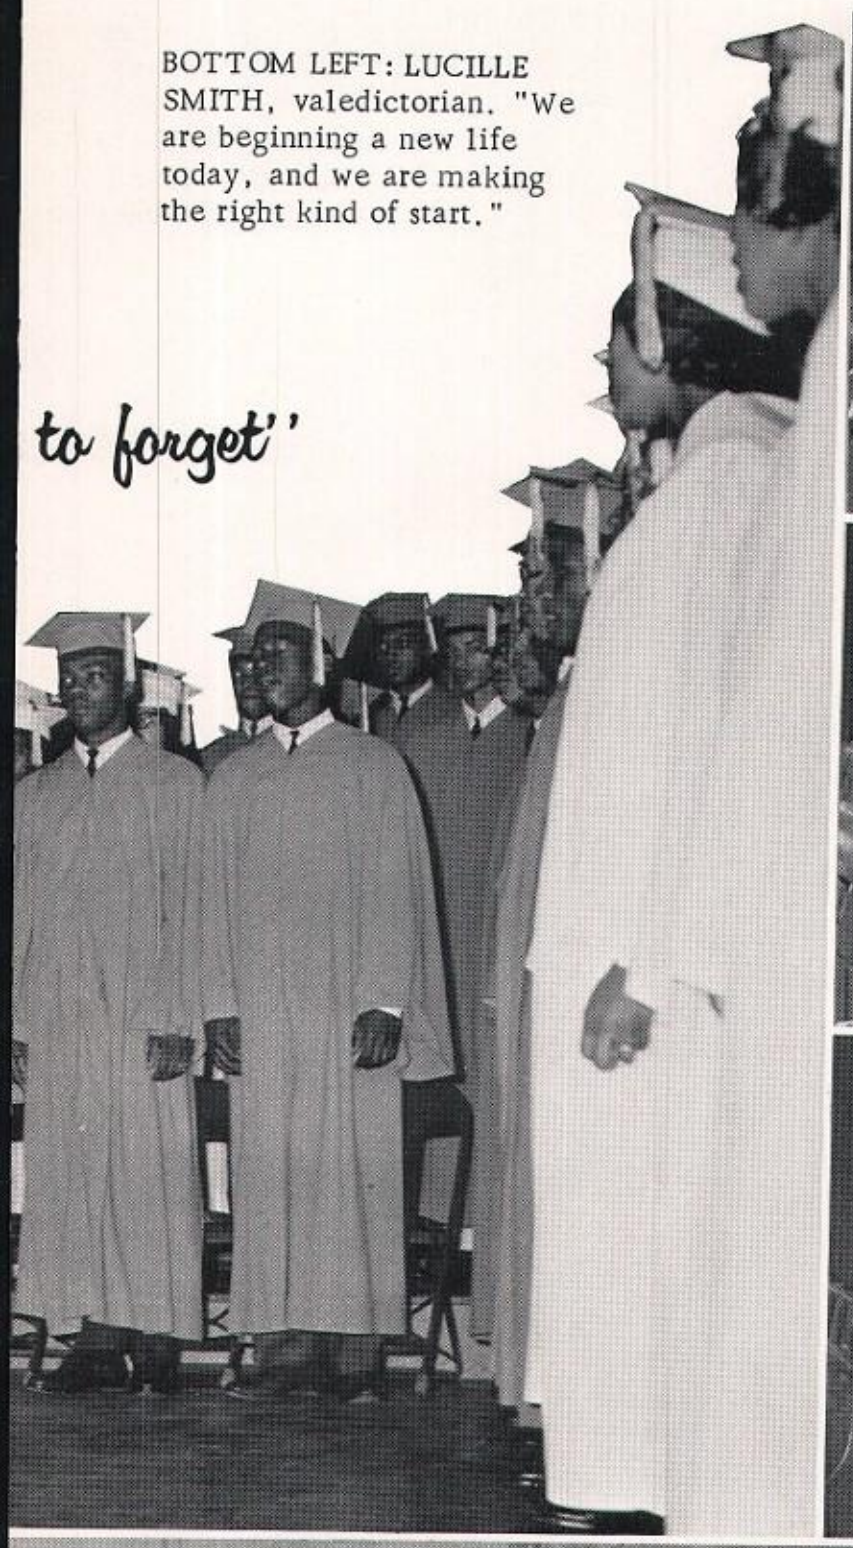
TOP LEFT: DORIS DUNSON, salutatorian. "...As we are about to enter into manhood and woman hood, we possess a more mature mind and a greater sense of value."

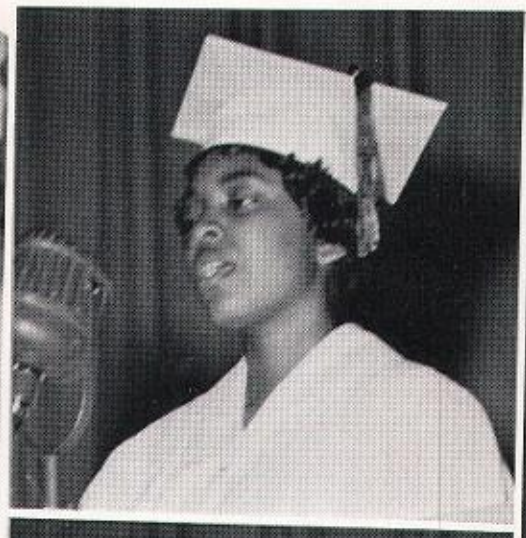
MIDDLE LEFT: RUBY KNUCKLES, historian. "Beneath the glimpses of our history...there is, we hope, the growth in wisdom and age and grace' which is the true purpose of education and which should color all the future history of the Class of 1960..."

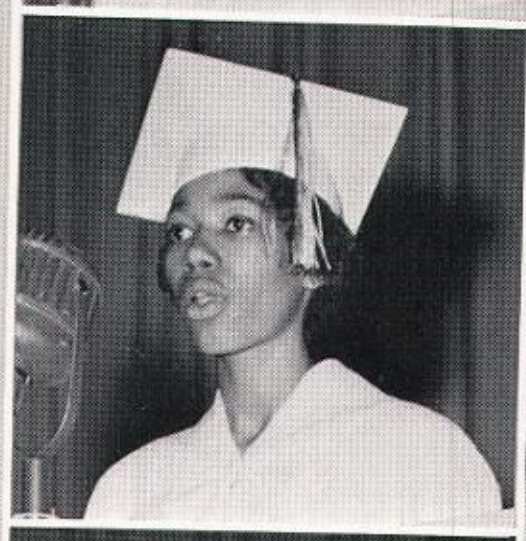
BOTTOM LEFT: LUCILLE SMITH, valedictorian. "We are beginning a new life today, and we are making the right kind of start."

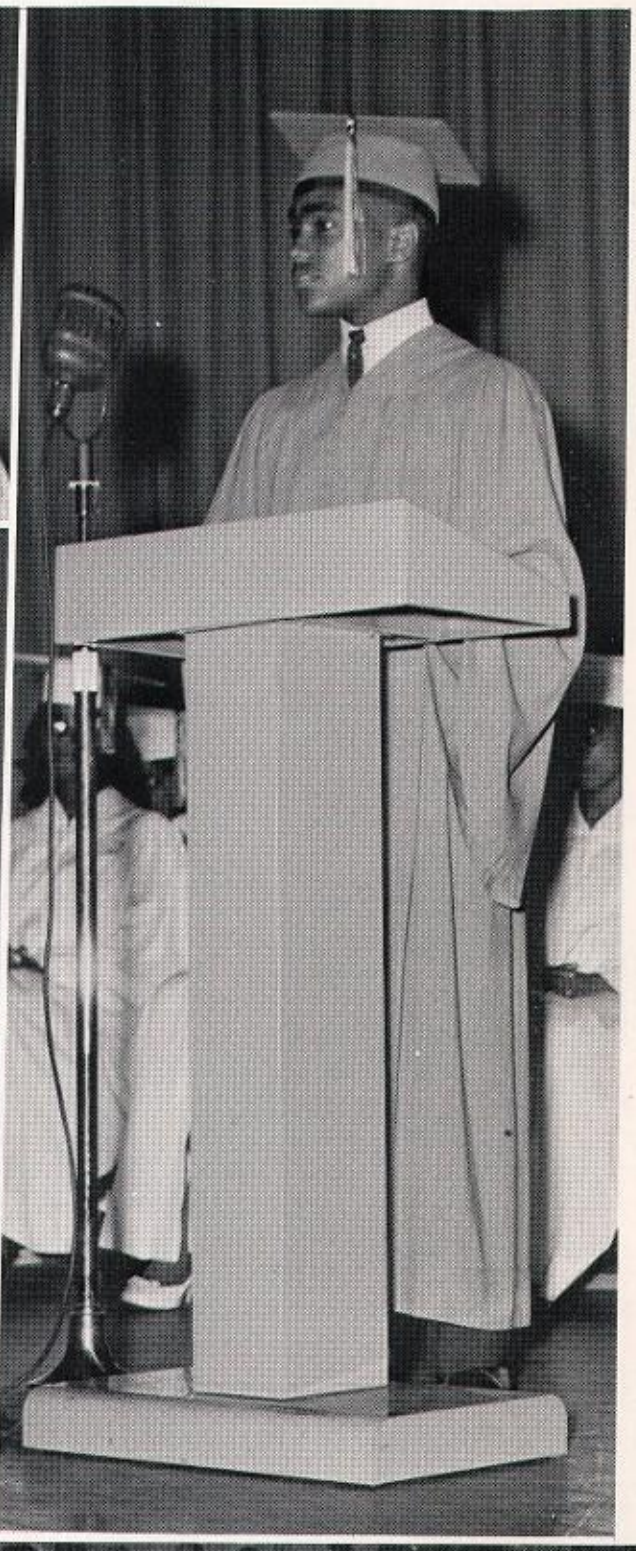
BELOW: CHARLES YOUNG, delivering "President's Proclamation." Mr. Young stressed that "the way in which we do our future works and duties will be a reflection on our high school education ...We are going to stand on our own feet now, and use our education as our contribution to the world."

to forget''









ABOVE: Spectators get an emotional workout as the Class of 1960 stages the greatest event in the life of a freshman: initiation.

The day they all pleaded "guilty"

LEFT: This young man was accused of growing too much over the summer.

BOTTOM: The Jarrett girls. ("They went to football practice one day, Your Honor!")

RIGHT: "Your Honor, he gave evidence of being a Dodger fan!"

The last days of Sheil House

Sheil House, whose ballroom was once the pride of the South Side, and the site of many memorable events, even in our lifetime, has at last come to an end.

In pictures at right, students enjoy the last dance there before the days of the iron ball. In middle of top row, Kathleen Carroll and Herbert Hayes demonstrate "the long and short of it." In circle, dance contest winners John Curtis and Mariann Davis flash victory smiles. Below left, empty ballroom as it looked during wrecking process. Lower right, Juniors emcee from famous stage for the last time.

Today--gone are the sounds of echoing cheers, rebounding balls, and juke box melodies. But the memories linger on, casting their shadows still at the corner of 41st and Michigan.

IN MEMORIAM
MARION GANDY

Baptized May 5, 1957
Confirmed May 26, 1958
Died May 6, 1959

"...Tragedy, too, came into our lives. On May 6, Marion Gandy, one of our best-beloved classmates, answered the summons to eternal life. Now we saw, as never before, the beauty and value of a life spent faithful to daily assignments and duties, generous and thoughtful of every one, and always striving for perfection in school work and daily living. As we shared the sorrow of her family and friends, we were consoled by the certainty that her life had been a success--the only true success there is." (--from Class History by Ruby Knuckles)
